Peaks and Valleys

The Kyoto Media Cabinet from Studio A is painstakingly carved to bring out a different side of the natural beauty of gmelina wood, a cousin of beech. Painted in matte black, the surface mimics that of delicate charcoal. The peaks and valleys convey an abstract texture that is organic yet sculptural. Studio A Home, Suite 614, 212.725.8439, studioa-home.com

Turn Signal

The Seibert Curved Sofa from Munder Skiles is an extension of their existing outdoor sectional sofa. The four-piece curved iron sections interlace with the straight pieces to form new and interesting possibilities. The curved chaise open-end section brings innovation to garden seating design. 3. Spring Fling With winter a distant memory, what's better to complement summer entertaining than a beautiful flower garden? In Thinking of Spring at Leftbank Art, this woman would clearly agree. 4. Sing The Blues Kooches Obi Pway from Odegard Carpets is an exceptionally fine woven textile in various shades of indigo dyes. Handwoven from the finest Himalayan vegetal dyed wool by supremely skilled artisans in Nepal. 5. Island Oasis Munder Skiles' Harbour Island Chair was based on a pair of antique French chairs which were reengineered by adding a curved seat, crest panel and stainless steel nails. This outdoor chair is extremely comfortable without cushions.

Bakes & Kropp

Outfitted with crisp white Bakes & Kropp cabinetry, this expansive L-shaped kitchen hits all the right notes in terms of enduring sea-inspired style. Coastal vibes are highlighted with signature pearl walnut cabinetry accents on the island, back wall and custom range hood, as well as the rich blue wall color and simple beach decor. Bakes & Kropp, Suite 430, 917.512.4853, bakesandkropp.com

► Currey & Company

Stunning workmanship is highlighted in Currey & Company's Grand Lotus Chandelier, a modern interpretation of the classic blossom with a touch of Moorish inspiration. Stylish curves, made from wrought iron and sheet metal, are skillfully finished in antique gold leaf. Currey & Company, Suite 506, 212.213.4900, curreyandcompany.com/NYDC

◀ Leftbank Art

Abstract art can take on many interpretations, which makes it appealing for many design environments. The color burst in I'll Keep It with Mine I exemplifies how energy can be transformed into a piece of art. Giclée on canvas with a gold float frame. Multiple size and finish options available. Leftbank Art, Suite 609, 646.293.6694, leftbankart.com

▼ SA Baxter Architectural Hardware

SA Baxter's world-renowned investment casting capabilities allow for the creation of design motifs with fine detail, such as the whimsical Endless Circles Door Knob. This handcrafted "jewelry for the home" takes on a restrained elegance when finished in burnished bronze. For a dazzling impression, polished nickel is a stunning finish choice. SA Baxter Architectural Hardware, Suite 1205, 212.203.4382, sabaxter.com

◀◀ Munder Skiles

The Almodington Bench dates from 1790 and is known as America's oldest wooden garden bench. This four-panel deep-seat bench has alternating diagonal slats that look like shutters across the high back. You can customize the size and the back of your bench and choose from painted mahogany or teak for natural weathering.
